

Beaches

Safaris

Mount Kenya

Rift Valley

People in Kenya live in different areas and homes. People in cities live in modern houses. People in rural areas live in homes made of thatch and dried mud. Many people also live in tribes.

Africa is a continent that lies close to the equator. There are 54 countries in Africa with different climates and cultures.

Year Two Geography Africa and Kenya

Spring

Egypt

Ghana

Kenya

South Africa

Congo

Glossary

Adapted - changed to suit the environment
Climate - the weather conditions over a long period of time

Continent - a massive area of land that includes many countries

Dam - a barrier created to hold back water to stop flooding and to use the water

Desert - a large, barren area of land that gets very little rain each year

Equator - a line that divides the Earth into the Northern and Southern Hemisphere

Tribes - a group of people that live together that share the same culture, language, religion and often have a leader

Tributary - a river or stream flowing into a larger river or lake

The climate in Kenya varies. There are wet and dry seasons. There are also different land features such as savannahs, valleys, mountains and beaches.

There are many different climates in Africa. Africa's climate is mostly tropical, which means warm and hot. There are rainforests, grasslands and deserts.

There is a dry tropical climate in the North and South with many deserts. There is a wet tropical climate in middle of the continent with lots of rain.

The river is used for fresh water, food, agriculture and transportation.

The River Nile is the longest river in the world and is located in North Africa. It flows through 11 countries. It flows into the Mediterranean Sea.

The Sahara Desert in Africa is the largest desert in the world. Animals and plants that live there are adapted to survive in the desert.

The River Nile does not flood anymore due to the Aswan High Dam.

The two tributaries are The Blue Nile and The White Nile. They join together in Sudan.

FUN FACT
2.5 million people live in the Sahara

Deathstalker Scorpions

Fennec Foxes

Plants in the Savannah have spines instead of leaves to stop them losing water, and they have deep roots to find water.

Olive Trees

Date Palm